WHY STEM MATTERS

Compared to other countries around the world, according to the World Economic Forum, the United States ranks:

IN EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM QUALITY.

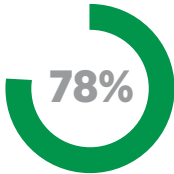

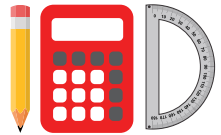

IN PRIMARY EDUCATION QUALITY.

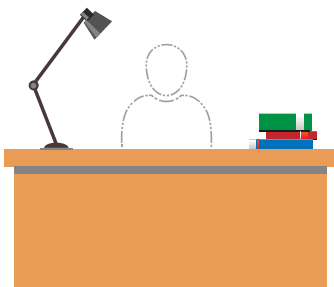

IN MATH AND SCIENCE EDUCATION QUALITY.

ONLY 26% OF AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS ARE CONSIDERED PROFICIENT IN MATH.

78% OF AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES DO NOT MEET THE STANDARD LEVELS FOR AT LEAST ONE ENTRY-LEVEL STEM COLLEGE COURSE.

THERE ARE NEARLY 3.7 MILLION UNFILLED U.S. JOBS IN STEM FIELDS.

THE TOTAL STEM SOLUTION

The SAE Foundation is addressing one of the most pressing issues facing industry today - the decline of student interest in science and technology - by supporting programs that span the entire K-16 learning continuum. SAE's pre-professional programs educate students in key STEM skills, improve teacher effectiveness, teach real-world engineering design and provide employers with direct contact with potential recruits.
